C. Ed. Brown To Head Memorial Day Observance

Officers For Annual Celebration Chosen At Meeting Held Friday Evening

DROP PLACING POTTED PLANTS

At the meeting of the Memorial Day committee, representing the various veteran and patriotic organizations, who have been taking charge of this celebration for a number of years, C. Ed. Brown, city clerk, who is a Spanish-American war veteran, was elected chairman of the committee. Recorder Orville Adkins and Recorder Orville Adkins were named secretary, a position he has held for a number of years.

It was voted by the group to discontinue the placing of potted plants on the graves of the veterans in the various cemeteries, and this year, it is expected only to take charge of seeing that all graves have markers and flags.

The next of placing these flowers has grown to a considerable amount with the added number of deaths of veterans of the various wars each year, until it has become increasingly difficult to finance. It is also a great task to visit the cemeteries and put these flowers in place.

The committee voted to meet again April 1, when the date will probably be chosen and other details of the celebration worked out. Memorial Day this year falls on Monday, and it is possible that the program celebrating the day may take place on Sunday afternoon. This will be definitely decided at the next meeting.

PA NEW OBSERVES

One grapefruit which would make a good breakfast for at least four people is on display in the lobby of The News office. This grapefruit is a giant Shaddock weighing 3½ pounds. It was sent to The News by Ira Cox, of 209 Fairmont avenue, from Florida, where he is vacationing. It was grown in Hillsborough county, Florida.

Mrs. Carl Hoch informs us that a very unusual robin has been seen quite frequently near her home, on the Pulaski road. The bird is same size as an ordinary robin, but its back is speckled with white, its under side of its wings is white, and its tail is all white. In flight, Mrs. Hoch says, this peculiar robin is very beautiful sight. The other robins around the place seem antagonized by their brother's strange appearance, and fight it whenever they can. It is Pa New's opinion that this bird is probably part albino. How about it, Mr. Fox?

Spring is beginning to bring out the beauty of the little enclosed "park," adjoining the Pennsylvania Power Company's Washington Substation on the West Side. The lawn, on which there are seats and a big bath, are surrounded by short trees and shrubbery.

On West Washington street, the large house next to the gasoline station, on the corner of Atlantic avenue, is being torn down.

Out Cretan avenue, beyond the city limits, a large barn is being torn down, and the workmen believe it was built about a hundred years ago. (Continued On Page Two)

Cardenas pledged that "Democratic nations of the world" would continue to be supplied with Mexican petroleum. The government will carry through the general petroleum administration, with workers' organizations cooperating.

(International News Service)
LONDON, March 19.—The London Daily Mirror reported today that Greta Garbo's mother has forbidden her to marry Leopold Stokowski and that as a result the Swedish-born film star promised to call off the march.

A Paris dispatch quoted the mother of the actress as saying: "I would never consent to a marriage of my daughter with a man 25 years her senior, who has been twice divorced and who has three children."

"What happiness could result from such a match?"

"There is trouble enough in married life without beginning it under such disastrous drawbacks."

The Mirror said La Garbo's mother telephoned Greta in Italy and tearfully made her "promise not to marry that man."

Greta took her mother's protest to heart and promised to call off the marriage plans, the paper said.

T. V. A. Chairman Firm In His Stand; Holds Facts Pending Congress Probe

By GEORGE DURO
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, March 19.—Chairman Arthur E. Morgan will get his last chance Monday at the White House to produce factual evidence in support of his charges of disloyalty, malfeasance and "subversion" against David E. Lilienthal and Harcourt A. Morgan, his associate directors of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The voluminous record to date, however, 174 single-record pages of transcript of two meetings between the President and the three directors—point strongly to disloyalty by the embattled Lilienthal and Morgan to the President and the congressional investigation of the TVA.

George Norris (D, R.) of Nebraska, author of the TVA act, made a Senate committee of five to investigate the charges and the "subversion" charge. Morgan's court at Warm Springs, Ga., where he is departing next Tuesday night.

Pittsburgh Jury Says Pair Guilty Of Assault And Battery

BOTH ACQUITTED ON DOPE CHARGE

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, March 19.—The bizarre story of Mrs. Lucille Pearce that her husband and a nurse undermined her health with dope and then while she was in a semi-stupor persuaded her to open her safe deposit box and turn over to them her fortune of jewelry and securities was partially discounted by a jury here today.

The jury found the husband, Maxwell D. Pearce, and the nurse, Margaret Gordon, of Cleveland, guilty of assault and battery and acquitted them on charges of administering drugs and robbery. Pearce alone in addition was found guilty of adultery. Sentence was not immediately pronounced.

The jury had retired late yesterday afternoon to debate the strange case but apparently found credence only in Mrs. Pearce's stories of being repeatedly beaten by her husband and the nurse.

Doom Nears For Three Kidnapers

Trio To Be Hanged At Moundsville, W. Va., On Next Monday Night

KIDNAP VICTIM DIED OF EXPOSURE

(International News Service)
MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., March 19.—Apparently resigned to their fate, three condemned kidnapers occupied cells in the death house of the state penitentiary here today, indifferently awaiting the grim command Monday night which will snuff them to the gallows.

Then and there the state of West Virginia will exact their lives for the ransom-snatching of Dr. James I. Seder, aged preacher of Huntington, W. Va., who died from the injuries and exposure suffered while he was their captive.

The trio which will march the last 13 steps to the gallows Monday night at nine o'clock, unless Governor Homer A. Holt intervenes, is comprised of Amet Booth, John Travis and Orville Adkins.

Prison guards said the men spoke little to each other, but all displayed no outward concern over the short time allotted to them to live. They occupy three of the four large cells in the death house, to which they were removed from murderer's row Wednesday.

Seadlund Given Death Sentence

Kidnaper And Slayer Of Charles Ross Hears Chicago Judge Pronounce Sentence

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, March 19.—His face a sickly yellow but still twitched in a defiant sneer, John Henry Seadlund today was sentenced to death in the electric chair by Federal Judge John Barnes for the brutal kidnap-murder of Charles Ross, millionaire Chicago manufacturer.

Though his face betrayed his concern, Seadlund had an air of audacious defiance as Judge Barnes said:

"John Henry Seadlund, I sentence you to be held by the United States marshal until April 19 and taken to a place that is convenient and put to death by electrocution."

Slayer Grants

Seadlund cocked his head and growled as the jurist looked down at him in amazement.

Judge Barnes denied motions by the kidnapers' counsel for arrest judgment and a new trial. He said:

"I don't think prejudicial error has been committed."

Defense attorneys, however, announced they would immediately file motion for an appeal. It was pointed out that this move may mean Seadlund at least a year more of life.

Southern Competition And High State Taxes Affect State Industry

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, March 19.—Two leaders of what were termed "average small businesses" today revealed how low wages and less stringent labor conditions in the south were depriving Pennsylvania of a once flourishing industry.

As the Dent commission weighed complaints against high taxes following a public hearing here, C. A. Naugle and John C. Keith, representing five furniture firms, told how southern competition, plus high taxes, had practically forced their industry to the wall.

"Where once furniture manufacturing was a highly profitable enterprise in Pennsylvania, today the south has become the furniture center of the nation while most of the plants here either shut down or are fighting for existence," commented Naugle, president of the Peerless Furniture company, of Shippensburg.

"We contemplate closing our Gettysburg Plant company," said Keith, representative of four concerns. "We can't afford to pay high taxes here when they are so much lower in other states."

Both Naugle and Keith told of how the south, in an effort to attract more industries, was offering more advantageous conditions, such as:

Diplomat Says Austria Is Done

Washington Representative Concludes 15 Years Of Diplomatic Service

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, March 19.—"As a result of developments which have occurred in Austria, that country has ceased to exist as an independent nation,"

Somewhat sadly, the Austrian minister, Edgar L. Prochuk, declared this formal notice to the State department today—and that ends Austria, so far as the United States diplomatically is concerned.

The German ambassador, Dr. Hans Dieckhoff, had notified the department earlier in the week that he was taking over all of Austria's diplomatic work in this country, but up to today Minister Prochuk had been silent.

The department announced that Austrian annexation will necessitate a number of "technical steps" but did not specify what they were. Only will be the closing of the American legation in Vienna, presumably with the American chargé d'affaires, John Wiley, becoming consul-general of the one-time Austrian capital.

The German and Austrian legations here have already been merged for all practical purposes, with Minister Prochuk having a post in the German diplomatic service without title.

It is understood Dieckhoff has recommended to Berlin that Prochuk be named by the German government on a pension, just as though he had always been a member of the German service. Prochuk has served the Austrian diplomatic service since a young man. He has been in Washington for more than fifteen years. His wife is an American, and they have several children, all reared in this country.

"Poison Cocktail" Causes Boy's Death

(International News Service)
WILMINGTON, Del., March 19.—A 17-year-old Wilmington boy was poisoned fatally and two companions were made ill today by a drink containing disinfectant which, police said, was proffered them in jest during a neighborhood house party in suburban Kentmere.

Police learned the boys were given the "poison cocktail" shortly after they joined the party at midnight. Four other boys about their own ages were held for questioning.

Barcelona Fears Further Raids

Report Air Raid Toll Of Past Few Days Is 1,300 Killed

U. S. EMBASSY IN CITY IS CLOSED

BARCELONA, March 19.—The American embassy in 1044th Spain's bomb-wrecked capital, was closed today and members of the staff moved out of the city into the hills for safety as Barcelona's residents fearfully awaited another visitation from death-dealing insurgent bombing planes.

An official estimate of the air raid casualties since 10 p. m. Wednesday until early this morning issued by the Spanish press agency said 1,300 people had been killed. The number of wounded was estimated at 2,000.

Hope the raids would cease was virtually abandoned by the populace still terrorized by rebel Generalissimo Francisco Franco's planes, which have soared over Barcelona with clock-like precision from the Italian-occupied Air base in the Balearic Islands.

Vigorous French representations were expected over the killing of French Vice Consul Le Couteux and the wounding of his immediate superior, Consul General Ponce, in one of the raids.

Stormy Greeting For Bund Leader

Meeting Place Storm Center

Large Crowd Of Opponents To Order Is Faced At Pittsburgh

POLICE PATROL RESTLESS CROWD

PITTSBURGH, March 19.—Gaping holes in the front street doors of the local headquarters of the German-American Bund today remained as mute memorials to the stormy meeting which Wilhelm Kunze, the American "Fuehrer" of the organization, attempted to address last night.

Instead of finding the usual hearing members of the Bund, Kunze found a meeting place to face a battery of anti-Nazi leaders of local veterans and patriotic organizations and a crowd of about 1,000 indignant opponents of the order.

While police and detectives patrolled the restless crowd outside, the Bund leaders attempted to reconcile Nazi ideology with the principles of Americanism, coming out as to state publicly if Americanism was to war with Germany, the Bund would fight with Uncle Sam against their brethren. An over-enthusiastic objector smashed the glass in the doors before Kunze's arrival and was treated at a hospital and booked at the police station.

Local veterans' leaders succeeded in locating the place of the meeting after local Bund leaders publicly announced it and been captured by police. Kunze promised in the future Bund meetings will be publicly announced.

Kunze finally turned to Maj. John H. Shenkel, distinguished local war veteran and for years head of the Americanization committee of the American Legion, as the questions of the audience became too much for him. Maj. Shenkel read the Bund leader a stern lecture on the principles of Americanism and warned him persecution of racial minorities will not be tolerated in this country.

SOUTH COMPETITION AND HIGH TAXES AFFECT INDUSTRY

As low wages, no labor trouble, ten-year periods without taxation, free buildings and water and electricity. When so we could advantageously compete with the south," commented Keith. "But the burden of additional taxes and additional costs due to compensation increases is proving too much."

As an example of tax increases in Pennsylvania, Keith produced the following figures showing the state tax on each $100 of sales of Reaser Furniture company of Gettysburg, Pa.:—Four cents in 34, 50 in 35, increase of 75.00 per cent; invested capital—ten cents in 34, 12.23 in 35, increase of 122.30 per cent.

Sen. John H. Deit, commission chairman, said in the case of such other industries as glass, from the testimony given at the various hearings of the commission, it appeared higher tax rates were stifling business enterprise and in some cases forcing them to move to another state.

Meanwhile, the commission's hearings stood adjourned today until April 8 when the final hearing will be held at Philadelphia, after using representative business from central Pennsylvania testify that taxes were too high.

Jury Convicts Accused Man In Death Of Young Woman At Elyria, O.

(International News Service)
ELYRIA, O., March 19.—Convicted of the attack murder of Louise Hornbeck, 19-year-old Gradian, O., dentist's assistant, Edward Hensley, Youngstown negro, today faced life imprisonment.

A mercy recommendation by the jury of eight women and four men, which deliberated for seven hours, saved Hensley from the electric chair.

Defense attorney D. F. Rendinell said a new trial motion would be filed, but Judge Gay Findley postponed the decision until after another trial. Hensley, 22, reported a man attempted to attack her near the scene of the Hornbeck killing. Hensley admitted the earlier crime, only to repudiate the confession later.

Previously a Marshall, Mich., transient, "confessed" the crime, but was found innocent. Alexander Manoff, West Homestead, Pa., hitchhiker, also made a "confession," but was found insane and committed to Lima State hospital.

communication by land, sea and air, including postal communications, between the two countries as well as general restoration of normal relations."

Complies With Demands
In this note, Lithuania complied with the chief demands of the Polish ultimatum, which would have expired at 9 p. m., and thereby averted what might have developed into a serious European war.

Authorities here indicated that Poland, likewise, would establish a legation at Kaunas, Lithuanian capital, thus terminating the long-standing diplomatic rupture between the two nations.

An official announcement said Lithuania gave in at 11 a. m.—10 hours before Polish troops would have begun marching across the frontier in the absence of a Lithuanian reply.

Polish government officials stated the note, which was broadcast to the Polish public shortly after it was received, indicated the tension between the two nations is now over.

Strict Censorship Prevails
Meanwhile, owing to a strict censorship in force here, it was impossible to confirm reports that the Polish naval fleet had set out for the Lithuanian coast before the government at Kaunas decided to bow before the Warsaw ultimatum.

The break in the tension came as both nations were speeding preparations for war—a conflict that might have damaged the nearby behemoth to the east, Soviet Russia, and other nations into a European conflagration.

As a result of the Lithuanian government's decision to accept the Polish demands, however, Europe saw another serious war scare fizzle into thin air—almost as suddenly as it arose.

It was believed that Polish and Lithuanian troops and war planes, facing each other in virtually mass formation along the border, would be withdrawn, and that the two governments would take quick action to calm the animosities aroused in the people of the nation.

Negotiations are now expected to begin which will result in formal Polish-Lithuanian diplomatic relations, regular traffic over the border and termination of the controversy between the two governments over possession of the city of Vilna.

Bows To Demands

Kaunas, Lithuania, March 19.—Faced with certain armed invasion if she refused, Lithuania today bowed to the demands of Poland and accepted Warsaw's ultimatum.

As a consequence, normal diplomatic relations will be restored and Lithuania presumably will renounce all claim to the disputed city of Vilna.

Reports the Polish navy was on its way and that Warsaw's air force had been massed to aid in a swift subjugation of Lithuania prompted the cabinet to accept the ultimatum ten hours before it expired.

Lithuania's capitulation to force left much bitterness and anti-Polish sentiment was intensified. Three or four cabinet ministers, including the foreign secretary, are expected to resign.

Fears of a German coup in Poland were held at least partially responsible for the surrender.

Alex. Paegley, aged 63 years, a well known citizen of the south side, died at 10 p. m. Friday at his home, 2 West Division street, after an extended illness.

Paegley was born in Italy April 8, 1874, son of Dominick and Florence Conti Paegley. He had long been a resident of this city, a member of St. Vitus church and Casa Savoia lodge, and a life member of the L. O. M. O. M.

He leaves his wife, Sophia DeMatteo Paegley, one daughter, Mrs. Florence Gambella, of New York City; five sons, Dominick, Charles, Lawrence, Harry and James, all of New Castle; four grandchildren and two brothers, Harry of New Castle and Louis in Italy.

Funeral mass will be celebrated at 9:30 a. m. Monday in St. Vitus church, and interment will be made in the parish cemetery.

Mrs. Frank S. Gibson.
Mrs. Mollie E. Gibson, aged 70 years, wife of Frank S. Gibson, of East New Castle, passed away suddenly at her home Friday night at 10:30 o'clock. She had been in failing health for several years.

Mrs. Gibson was born in Lawrence county on the 6th of August, 1867, daughter of Joseph C. and Lydia J. McMillin. All her life was passed in the community. She had been married to Mr. Gibson for a little over 50 years.

Two sons, Jesse H. Gibson and Harry V. Gibson, both of New Castle; five grandchildren and four grandsons, two sisters, Mrs. Blanche Hanna of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. L. M. Reed of New Castle, and two brothers, J. A. McMillin of Bradenton, Fla., and M. L. McMillin of New Castle, survive in addition to her husband.

The body has been removed to the A. Darrell Burke funeral home, where friends may call Sunday afternoon from two to four o'clock and Sunday evening from seven to nine.

The funeral, however, at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, will be private. Rev. R. J. Fredericks, pastor of the Calvary Presbyterian church, of which Mrs. Gibson was a member and one of the founders, will be in charge. Interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. Margaret Ellen Davis.
Mrs. Margaret Ellen Davis, aged 74 years, of 820 Lanthier street, passed away suddenly at her home Friday afternoon at about 5 o'clock, just two days after the funeral of her husband, William Lemuel Davis. They had been married for 34 years and death parted them less than a week.

Mrs. Davis, in spite of her advanced age, had been in fairly good health. The death of her husband and the strain of the funeral were too much for her, however, and she passed away a few minutes after lying down yesterday.

She was born in New Castle March 12, 1864, daughter of James H. and Amanda Spencer Sankey, and had always resided here. She was a member of the First Presbyterian church and of the Reformed Ladies League. She had been president of the league for the past seven years, and resigned the position just two weeks ago.

She leaves two children, Mrs. Joseph Dunlop of New Castle and Harry Davis of Baltimore, Md.; eight grandchildren, one great-grandchild, two sisters, Mrs. Minnie Sharrer of Toledo, O., and Mrs. Bessie Stright of New Castle, and a number of nieces and nephews. One son, Edward L. Davis, died in 1918.

Funeral services will take place at the residence Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Dr. J. J. McIlwaine, First Presbyterian minister, in charge. She will be laid to rest beside her husband in Greenwood cemetery.

Fellow Postman:

In the spring, a young fellow's fancy turns to love. But as E. J. King cannot be classed with the young fellows, his thoughts turn to the evolution and perfection of Automobile Springs.

Ever since Joe Rick pulled that advertising stunt, E. J. has been looking for a chance to get even. And now he has it. He will have pictures direct from the automotive engineers, research laboratories, showing the evolution and manufacturing of automobile springs and he says there will be little advertising of Buicks or Pontiacs about them. Come prepared to hockle, E. J. is prepared to retaliate.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CHILD DISLIKES DENTIST

A young woman, a junior at the University of Wisconsin, taking two courses in psychology, writes:

"Dear Dr. Myers: This afternoon I experienced a scene in a dentist's office which was very upsetting to me. I should like to explain it to you and have you comment on it either in a personal letter or through your column, whichever you prefer. I wrote to her."

"This dentist had for a patient a young child, a boy, about four years old. Between the walls of the little boy and the shouts of the dentist, I tried to make out the situation the best I could. The boy obviously didn't want the dentist to come near him and apparently tried to keep him away with his hand. Every now and then he would cry, 'I wanta tell you something!... In a very disagreeable way the dentist was telling the child that if he didn't behave he would get rough. Fifteen minutes of threatening and coaxing seemed to have no success. Just how the dentist did succeed I don't know, for during the next five or ten minutes of the struggle the doors had been closed. 'By the time the child came out I was nearly a wreck. His little face was red and stained from crying. 'I believe the dentist was equally in the wrong and the mother would be a fool if she continued to send the child to him. By this time he probably has acquired a terror for all dentists and even doctors.'"

Sympathize With Child

Answer: Naturally, I sympathize with this child. Perhaps not all the fault lay with the dentist. Maybe the parents had threatened to take him to the dentist or doctor when he was bad. Maybe they had aroused fear in him over instances of first aid.

Anyway, we are glad that nearly all dentists are so impatient, unaffectionate and inconsiderate of a child as the one this young woman describes. I know some dentists who are almost uncanny in winning the child's co-operation. Such a one we had for our children. Of course, they began going to him before two years of age. After entering school they made and kept their own dental engagements, saving the same dentist all the while. And a child doesn't never learned to be afraid of the dentist.

By the way, a mother told me recently about the way her doctor mis-treated her year-old baby against diphtheria. He had her carry him to a room next to his office and hold the baby so it did not see the doctor who did the stunt through the partly opened door. The child didn't even cry and never associated the pain with the doctor.

Perhaps some day someone, without resort to astrology or some other debatable method, will be able to tell us scientifically why the fates choose some particular year to lavish on the world a considerable group of famous men and women and then, in between, withhold her gifts to humankind.

What, for instance, was so propitious about the year 1809 that Darwin, Lincoln, Tennyson, Gladstone, Oliver Wendell Holmes and Edgar Allen Poe should all happen to arrive on earth during its span? Twenty-seven years later, in 1836, there came upon the scene a crop of humbusts including Ben. Harne, W. S. Gilbert, Francis Burnard, who was born of the French, and even Mark Twain, for though he was born just before the New Year dawned, his birth was within the same twelvemonth as the others.

Then there is the further curious circumstance that in 1836 Charles Dickens, who was then twenty-four years old, should begin all at once to amuse the world with his "Pickwick Papers."

AMERICA'S PEACE COMES FIRST

If the basic principles of American foreign policy, as defined by Secretary Hull in his address to the National Press Club, are strictly maintained, this nation should have little to fear from the spectre of war that has now reared its head across the sea. But America's safety depends not on the mere reaffirmation of admirable policies and principles, but on their firm maintenance in the face of pressure and even provocation from other nations.

Mr. Hull's restatement of the administration's inclination toward parallel, though independent, action with other nations whose objectives coincide with our own, plainly called for his accompanying assertion that the United States has no foreign alliances or understandings of any kind and is resolved not to enter into such arrangements.

It is true that no formal treaty can be concluded by our government without the sanction of the senate. So no secret treaties do or can exist. But since the president and his secretary of state are entrusted with the conduct of our foreign relations, there is opportunity for understandings that might easily spell future trouble and embarrassment. Therefore Mr. Hull has done well to be specific on this point.

Mr. Hull's reference to "the tragic demonstration of how quickly the contagious source of treaty-breaking and armed violence spreads from one region to another" is a plain warning that America must strengthen her defenses. Here is not merely our best but our final insurance against war.

International outlaws call for American action only when it infringes American rights. In protecting its citizens and interests abroad, America must not essay the role of an international policeman for world peace. There is no reason to accept these positive statements by Mr. Hull or other than their face value.

In standing up for our own rights, without fighting the battles of any other nation, we naturally support the foundation of international law and order as opposed to international ruthlessness and aggression. The resultant contribution to the cause of justice and fair dealing between nations does no violence to American principles and traditions.

This is the meaning to be taken from Mr. Hull's calm but firm definition of America's foreign policy, which was undoubtedly inspired by the new crisis in European affairs. Until the war-mad nations return to sanity, there can be no relaxation of America's preparations to insure her own peace.

By Francine Markel

DEAR MISS MARKEL—Please use as information on receiving the cigarette—how the mother at a debut should stand to receive the guests; how guests are introduced to the daughter and what a guest should say in response to such an introduction? READER.

Answer—The mother stands by the door through which the guests will enter the room. Her daughter stands by her side. To the approaching guest the mother says, "Mrs. Martin, may I present my daughter, Elizabeth." Even though your daughter is introduced in this manner, Mrs. Martin should refer to her as Miss Martin and not Elizabeth. Mr. Martin would be presented lastly; "Margaret, this is Mr. Martin" or "My daughter, Mr. Martin."

If there is a long line, each guest should merely say: "How do you do" and pass on. But if a guest arrives during a lull, she might step to chat with the hostess and her daughter. A friend knowing the dramatic would probably say: "Elizabeth, you look lovely," or "I hope you have a delightful season."

SATURDAY, MARCH 19

Once Upon March 19th. There should be a monument somewhere to George Loveless and five other men of Tolpuddle, Dorset, England, who became organized labor's first martyrs, 104 years ago today.

The six men of Tolpuddle were condemned to seven years in jail for having formed a laborers' union in which an oath was taken. This was considered by the government and the court as "seditious action" and a "criminal and fearful spirit of combination."

There had been no disturbance, any more of irreproachable character. They had gone about their organizing peacefully and their strongest demand was a wage of $2.50 a week. Like Homer Martin, president of today's Auto Workers Union, Loveless, the laborer's leader, was a minister.

At the very time of the laborers' trial sympathy for the American Negro race was at its peak in England. The English laborer, acknowledging full time for seven shillings a week, was being fed then any southern slave. The English laborer lived on potatoes and turnips and a little bread. During the war a many a laborer's bowl there was never a taste of meat.

A brave editor saw to it that the conviction of the laborers' became known and discussed throughout Britain. It required two years of agitation to undo the wrong and obtain pardons. Eventually the men named of their imprisonment and only one of them ever returned to Tolpuddle. But their case served as a furor that labor's fight to organize was recognized for the first time.

On Other March 19th.—1734—Thomas McKean was born, a future signer of the Declaration of Independence. But he did not sign it until five years after it was adopted. He was not a member of the Continental Congress when it was first signed. McKean signed the Declaration after he had been in Pennsylvania. The World AND THE Mud Puddles

SOMETHING DIFFERENT

As a class of citizens, Americans are hypocrites. They don't drink when they think no one is looking. They pass laws for the building gamblers and others, and they are continuously waiting money on this and that. Some law enforcement officers are taking graft from professional gamblers, from book makers, from those who violate laws that never should be on the statute books.

The state of Nevada contains the smallest population of any state in the Union. There are not more than 100,000 people and most of these people are children of the soil. Cowboys, gamblers and those who do not look with favor upon many of the state's laws. The citizens of that state have no state inheritance taxes, no income taxes to pay. They license gambling houses, as well as drinking places, in fact they probably have fewer laws than any other state.

Recommending all of this, some enterprising Americans have started a movement to make the state of Nevada a very attractive place. They are now engaged in building a Las Vegas resort hotel and gambling casino, the sort of place as was operated in Agua Caliente, Mexico, a great horse racing track, a golf course, tennis courts, swimming pools and all that sort of thing connected with the hotel. They have also purchased a great area of land and plan to build upon this land very handsome and comfortable houses, which they will rent to wealthy Americans, or those even not so wealthy, who wish to make Nevada their legal residence. They will furnish these homes; they will provide servants to take care of them. One hour from Las Vegas and they can be in the snow. In the heat of the summer, it is not expected that very many citizens will be at home, but all at the building are to be well equipped. It will be a good place for those who wish to escape inheritance taxes and state income taxes, in fact, the state of Nevada has very few taxes.

These promoters are going still further. They are planning to pre-

Scholarship Test
Like Last Year's

State School Head Tells General Plan Of 1938 Examination

Dr. Lester K. Ade, superintendent of public instruction, today announced that the annual state scholarship examination for 1938 will be constructed along the same general lines as that of last year. It will consist of a standard group intelligence test, a test in English and one in social studies with the emphasis on United States history and civics.

The tests in English and social studies will be, for the most part, "power tests" requiring an ability to reorganize facts and interpret data. They provide plenty of "ceiling" height for a real competitive examination, he intimated.

County superintendents throughout the state will receive the examination in sealed individual packets each containing three sets.

Three thousand took the 1937 test.

Arthur Seyss-Inquart

Hermann Goering

With Munich as the chief capital, a United National Socialist Union of Germany and Austria now is envisioned as the next step in Fuehrer Adolf Hitler's conquest of Austria. The proposed setup, said to be under consideration by Nazi leaders, would establish Hitler in Munich as sole leader of both countries and place Field Marshal

Hermann Goering as chancellor in Berlin and Dr. Arthur Seyss-Inquart as chancellor in Vienna, both responsible to Hitler. The plan would convert Austria into a state of the German Reich with a status "higher than that of Bavaria". Hitler's headquarters in Munich would be the newly built $1,000,000 Nazi party building.

Close Campaign For
Civic Music Tonight

Solicitors To Report In The
Castleton Hotel With Their Memberships

Closing a week's campaign for memberships, the solicitors of the Civic Music Association will meet tonight in the Castleton Hotel and report their success to Chairman Ross D. Rosenberg and Field Representative Elizabeth Doan.

Just what the total will be is not known today but the indications are that the total will exceed that of last year when 450 members were secured. This year a special student's ticket priced at one dollar has been attractive and this alone should add many members.

There has been an admirable spirit among the workers, said Chairman Rosenberg. "I know that the concert this winter will be enjoyed the more because of the fine work done on the campaign."

"I have enjoyed being in New Castle," said Mrs. Doan. "The people here have been wonderfully kind in their reaction to Civic Music. I shall enjoy coming back again. I want New Castle to have the finest program this season it is possible to obtain and I feel sure that every number will be a worth while attraction."

When the memberships are in it will be possible to know what type of attractions are to be secured. Each membership carries with it a slip upon which the members set down his preferences. Those already in show a heavy trend towards orchestras and ballets. Instrumental music also gets a heavy vote, with of course everybody including at least one vocalist selection on his slip.

Portrait Of Jesus'
Class Each Tuesday

Lenten Bible Class Of Y. W. C.
A. Attended By Large
Groups Of Women

"Matthew's Portrait of Jesus" will be the subject Tuesday morning, of the Y. W. C. A. Lenten Bible class which Mrs. J. J. McIlvaine is so ably teaching each Tuesday in March.

Last week the portrait of Jesus was by John Mark, a young man of action who pictured Jesus so often as "straightway" going or doing something. Mrs. McIlvaine is using an outline prepared by the National Y. W. C. A. and based on the book, "The Christian Epic" by Mary Ely Lyman.

The class has been attracting a growing group of women to the Y. W. C. A. each Tuesday morning, at 10 o'clock. There is no fee charged and there will be no more periods to which all women are urged to attend. It is not necessary to have been present at previous meetings to gain a new portrait of Jesus from this enthusiastic teacher.

Just why the present campaign is attracting so many people to run for member of the county committee of the Republican and Democratic parties doesn't seem clear, but the rush this year exceeds anything in years. Chief Clerk William A. Eakin had a large supply of them on hand, over 300, and this was exhausted. He got another supply and this is about gone.

A member of the county committee gets no salary although in some campaigns he does get paid for working at the polls usually five or ten dollars. As a member he gets a chance to vote for the chairman of his party and that about ends it. In the larger cities the members of the county committee are considered party leaders in their districts but neither party has ever held that idea in Lawrence county.

Another special registration day has been asked for, Chestnut, first precinct of Wayne township, coming in with a petition signed by 100 voters. March 28 was set by the county commissioners and the place for registration will be the home of Mrs. W. C. Hennon. There seems to be more than a usual interest in registration this year and primary day, May 17, should see a heavy vote out.

Another large sentence court was held Friday morning and was scheduled to be finished today. One verdict was returned Friday, that in the case against Rudy Ginochli. On the first count, that of unlawfully setting up and making and drawing a lottery, he was found not guilty. On the two succeeding counts, unlawfully concerned in managing, conducting and carrying out a lottery, and unlawfully selling and causing to be sold evidence of wagers, slips, etc., he was found guilty.

Dinner Party
At Cathedral Is Enjoyed By Crowd

Last evening's St. Patrick's Party at The Cathedral, under the auspices of the Consistory Dinner Club, proved an enjoyable occasion, and was attended by over 400 persons, many from the surrounding district.

The entertainment during the evening was furnished by a girls chorus and string ensemble from the Senior high school. Robert A. Duff directed the chorus and also led the group singing during the dinner. The string ensemble was under the direction of Joe F. Hopple.

Both groups rendered some difficult numbers and their presentations were greatly appreciated by the audience.

Later in the evening, cards and dancing were enjoyed. The party as a whole proved one of the finest of the year, and the committee received many fine compliments.

The end of the first round of the City-County basketball tourney for the benefit of the Croton Band fund will be reached tonight. There will be three more fast games on the program. The first game will start at 7:30 o'clock. The crowd that packed the Washington High gym last night is indication that the tourney is a big success.

General Chairman Conn of the tourney stated today that a much larger sum than first believed will be turned over to the Croton Band at the end of the tournament. The entire county is greatly excited over the tourney.

First Game Good
The first game tonight will have the Bessemer Merchants against the Epworth M. E. team. The Class AA champs in the Church league for the past two years and tourney "darkhorses." In the Epworth line-up will be found such stars as George Kennedy, James Darr, late of the Slippery Rock Freshman team, Bus Davis the lad who scored 48 points the other night in the church league. He will be a marked man in the game with the Bessemer tonight.

Rambling Around In Local Sports World

Looking ahead in the baseball world... Unlike other years, "rookie sandloters" are hogging most of the attention in the spring training camps... no doubt, quite a few of the lineups will be dotted with recruits... many baseball jobs are open in the majors and one may reasonably expect to find many new faces... practically every club has an opening for a rookie, even the New York Yankees who are giving Joe Gordon a golden opportunity to fill the shoes of Tony Lazzeri... Gordon has the world at his feet... he has to do it produce and the job is his... then, of course, if he fails, there will be an opening for some unknown buster... as far as the Philadelphia Phillies and St. Louis Browns are concerned, every position is opened like in other years... there always a chance for a rookie... Connie Mack has been the friend of all ball players for some years... he seems to be constantly on the lookout for a rookie who wants a chance to make good... his teams of the past few seasons have been made up of young material... he's trying to get as much young stuff as possible... Bucky Harris' Washington Senators will be loaded with "rookies" especially starting pitchers... although it appears as though the New York Giants are all set, they say Terry is scouting for young blood, someone capable of shelling the ball out of the park... he is even interested in a good pitcher...

Art Rooney, owner, and Johnny Blood, coach of the Pittsburgh Pirates football team, met White, Colorado grid and floor star, who stopped off at Pittsburgh, enroute from New York to his home, last night. He played in the east with the Colorado U. All-America basketball team. The Pirates want to give Whizzer $15,000 for one season. Rooney also says he will pay for a post-graduate course for Whizzer at a Pittsburgh institution. While doesn't yet know whether to accept the offer or the Rhode's scholarship and before making a decision will discuss the proposal with a brother, now at Oxford, England.

Falcons Topple Ellwood, Castles Defeat Pulaskis

CROWD OF ABOUT 700 SEE FAST GAMES

New Castle basketball fans got their jollies worth last night in the City-County basketball tourney at the Washington High court with the playing of three fast games. A crowd of over 700 witnessed the games and went home satisfied that they had seen the cream of the floor world in Lawrence County in action.

Castles Take Victory
In the first game on the card the Castles team made up of former Union High and New Castle High stars took the measure of the K. Pulaski team from the Oakland district 15 to 14 in a hot-hot contest that pleased the fans no end. The Castles went into the lead at the start of the game, and at the first period led 6 to 1. The Castles led by Mike Covelli and Guttaugh took the lead at 7 to 6 at the half as the Pulaskis failed to tally a point. The Castles held to the lead in the third period which ended 9 to 8. The fourth and final session saw a lot of action with the lead saw-sawing back and forth every few seconds. Dudley Perrett, Mike Covelli and Tom Corvill had baskets for the Castles in the final half of the game. The Pulaskis led by Wotowicz, Ostrowski, and Hnat tried hard to overtake the Castles, but couldn't quite make the grade. The Castles now go into the quarter-finals.

Falcons Win Close One
The feature game on the bill saw the Polish Falcons one of the finest teams in the city and county just barely beating out the strong Ellwood City Shelby team 30 to 26 but it took an extra period to do it. This game was a thriller from start to finish. The Falcons had their hands full with the Ellwood boys no mistaking that fact.

The first point was an indication of the battle that was to follow when the Falcons held a slim 5 to 4 margin. The end of the first half found the count at 15 to 13. Falcons Coach Mike of Ellwood City used an entirely new team in the second period. Marion Szwed led the Falcons in the first half with three field goals while Reibich and Reiber also had points for the Falcons. For the Ellwood City team most of the scoring was done by Szwed.

Elwood Closes Gap
Starting off strong in the third period the Falcons had a lead of 21 to 17 as the third quarter ended. The Shelby team came to life in the fourth and final period to outplay the Falcons scoring nine points to five for the Falcons. The regulation game ended 26-26 with the fans in an uproar.

In the extra period Henry Koszala made a field goal and Reiber followed suit to win the game 29 to 26 victory. The Ellwood City boys tried desperately to score, the ball rimmed the basket several times but failed to drop in. The Falcons made 8 out of 11 fouls. The Shelby team made 4 out of 7 fouls.

Lester "Bub" Reiber, Marion Szwed and Coach Henry Koszala led the Falcons in scoring but young Eugene "Gabby" Kozdra supplied the spark that kept the Falcons going in the closing moments. For the Shelby team the work of Szwed was very good with Reibich and Barnes also playing fine basketball.

Keystones Trip W. P. A.
The third and final game found the Keystone A. C. team under Coach Andy "Coats" Vendite handily defeating the W. P. A. team 32 to 13. It was a romp for the Keys. The first period it was 5 to 3, and after that it was just a question as to how big the score would be. The half ended 15 to 7. The third period it was 20 to 8. In the final period the Keys

THREE GAMES AT K. P. HALL SUNDAY
There will be at least three fast games at the K. P. Hall on Sunday. It was announced by Business Manager Eddie Koszala today. In the first game at 1:30 o'clock the K. Pulaski team will meet the Catholics in a disputed title battle.

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

(Material Gathered and Edited by Student Reporters)

ANNUAL STAFF

The second semester is now well under way and the various senior activities for the graduating class of June are beginning to take place. One of these functions is the publication of the annual, which is eagerly anticipated by all students. The new annual staff has been selected by members of the faculty and actual work is progressing rapidly.

The following students are those selected for the literary and business divisions of the annual: Mary Lou Finkler, Esther Nowak, Louise Shaffer, Dorothy Hackett, Patricia Bassett, Mable Johnston, Eleanor Palmer, Lois Leddy, Louis Marullo, David Galasso, Lewis Hough, Dan Schenck, Evelyn Wallace, and Jane Smith.

The art staff plays a most important part in the arrangement of the annual. It chooses the theme to be used, and everything else centers around that theme. Decorations for class day and the dinner dance are in keeping with the theme of the yearbook. The new art staff, under the supervision of Miss Bess Galey, includes: Val Kish, Irene Donston, Nora Gilmore, Sarah Ingham, Norma Jean Schick, Alfred Burgo, and Martin Quimby.

BETTER CITIZENSHIP GROUP

On Thursday morning the Better Citizenship Group held its first meeting this semester in the auditorium. The meeting was in charge of Francis Geyer, president of the Student Council, who explained that the primary purpose of this meeting was to "get acquainted." He then introduced Robert Duff, who led the students in singing the school song. Following this James Hoxley gave a short, inspirational talk on the value of being a good citizen.

There followed several popular selections played by Henry Gols and his Senior A orchestra, interspersed with offerings of a variety of songs, each representing one class in No-Ca-Hi. Aside from the orchestral selections, the program was as follows:

"Moon of Manakoa"—June Wilson, Miriam Wimer, Kathryn Pander.

"Mr. Have's Memory System"—a reading, William Hoxley.

"Shine On Harvest Moon"—Helen Ghuch, Betty Evans.

"GIRL RESERVES. The weekly meeting of the Girl Reserves was held in the Y. W. C. A. on Monday evening. After a short business meeting in which Evelyn Wallace, the program chairman, announced the following interest groups and their instructors, the girls met in their class groups. The interest groups are:

Balloon Dancing—Mrs. Louis Hazer.

Quilts—Miss Siberson.

Discussion and Newspaper—Miss Perdue.

Clay Modeling—Mr. Ayers.

Chorus—Mr. Duff.

Sewing—Miss Barry.

Movie Criticisms.

M. D. Cobb, of the Penn Theater, was the speaker for this week. He talked on "The Evaluation of and How to Choose a Good Movie."

Mr. Cobb stated that there were pictures for every individual taste and that the movies are very closely censored, wherefore Mr. and Mrs.

General Public need not avoid them for fear of some obscene idea or action.

To choose a good movie, one must first consider his own personal taste. If he favors history, there are wonderful historical pictures made; and in music and dancing there is the best of talent in all the fields of these arts.

The general public is the judge and jury concerning the type of pictures produced by Hollywood. Pictures are made on a commercial basis and therefore the production must make money to repay cost and salaries.

Mr. Cobb's talk was thoroughly enjoyed by the girls and they eagerly anticipate the future talks to be given by other theater managers.

For the next meeting the girls are planning a "Get Acquainted Party" in the form of a dance in the gym.

AROUND CITY HALL

Every time C. Ed. Brown wraps nickels taken from parking meters, preparatory to depositing them in a bank, he places 40 nickels or $2.00, worth in each package. Yesterday Mayor Charles E. McGraw weighed one of the packages and learned that each $2.00 worth weighed 7 15-16 ounces. Ralph A. Criswell, chief of police, made two trips to the bank because he had 14,700 nickels to deposit. The last collection amounted to $735.00. The amount represented parking fees paid for a period of approximately 10 days.

A glance through some old ordinance books at City Clerk C. Ed. Brown's office shows that the clerk who recorded the happenings of the borough council four score years ago were adepts in penmanship. In fact many city clerks used pen and ink to record the councilmanic doings.

One ordinance, adopted in 1854, when New Castle was a borough, made it mandatory that one pay a license before he or she could stage a play, spectacle or entertainment. For the first week the producer had to pay $1.00; for the first month $10.00; and for the season, $20.00. Failure to secure a permit was punishable by a fine of $20.00.

In the days of 1871 the city had quite a wide sidewalk on one street—Hartshurst street. According to an ordinance, Hartshurst street extended from Pittsburgh street to the foot of the Green hill. The width of the east sidewalk was nine feet.

An ordinance of 1879 provided that trains were supposed not to run faster than six miles an hour through the city. Operation of a gambling or disorderly house upon conviction cost $100 in default of which one could be sentenced to hard labor in 1876.

The physician who took care of the sick and furnished medicine in 1880 received an annual salary of $100.00. In 1886 a mercantile tax ordinance provided that one would be required to pay $200 annually if his business amounted to $300.00 and upwards. The lowest rate was $2.50, on $200 worth of business annually.

The program of events will follow the same plan as last year by beginning in the morning, continuing well into the afternoon, and finishing with some of the large group numbers in the evening.
